

Crime Scene Report: Locker Room Two

The foyer of this locker room appears to be a false set. Fighters can come out and do promos or interviews or be filmed sparring the pads with their trainer here. It's also the backdrop for pre-fight walkouts. The walls are covered in copies of [FP_0101] for maximum promotional effect. It's in this room that the victim died, and dropped the bottle [FP_0102], which is full after accounting for what is splashed on the floor. [FP_0102] has been untouched since the victim collapsed.

There is a second room just behind the foyer that has a wooden desk and a sink, along with a door to the left that leads to the main locker room. This room has a copy of [FP_0101] as well, and [FP_0103], containing [FP_0104] (which opened to the photographed page [FP_0105]) and [FD_0001] which has been photocopied for your convenience.

The main locker room (complete with more copies of [FP_0101] and a prominently displayed [FP_0106]) has a few doors that open into smaller waiting rooms for the athletes to afford a bit of privacy. [FP_0107] was found on the floor of the locker room and one locker was searched, containing [FP_0108], [FP_0120], and [FP_0109]. The contents of [FP_0108] have been photographed as [FP_0110], [FP_0111], and [FP_0112], and the text logs from [FP_0108] have been transcribed as well for your convenience.

In the corner of the main locker room was a trash can, which for completeness' sake was emptied; [FP_0113] and [FP_0114] were the relevant contents.
